Key Risks

- Your capital is at risk and you may not get back the full amount invested.
- Tax treatment depends on individual circumstances and may be subject to change.
- Investments quoted on AIM are likely to fall and rise in value more than shares listed on the main market of the London Stock Exchange. They may also be harder to sell.
- The availability of tax reliefs also depends on the investee companies maintaining their qualifying status.
- Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future returns.

Monthly Commentary

During November, the Net Asset Value (NAV) of the Octopus AIM VCT 2 plc fell by 3.30%. This compares to a 2.81% decrease in the FTSE AIM All Share and a 2.24% increase in the FTSE All Share, both on a total return basis.

Contributors to performance over the month included online fashion retailer Sosandar plc. The company delivered a very good set of interim results for the six months to 30 September, with revenues up 184% to £12.2m, putting them ahead of market expectations for the full year. We are pleased to report that they have traded profitably for the months of October and November, a real milestone for the business. Solid-state battery technology business, Ilika plc, provided an update to the market which confirmed that manufacturing scale-up in its miniaturised Stereax battery is on schedule. Product sales are anticipated to start in Q2 2022. Scientific product design and technology business, SDI Group plc, provided a typically solid trading update, in which it confirmed that revenues for the six months to 31 October 2021 were up over 40% on an organic basis. As a result, the Group has guided that revenues and profits for the full year will both be ahead of market expectations. In addition, SDI has secured an extended loan facility from its bank, putting the business in great shape to continue its acquisitive growth strategy.

Detractors from performance included global identify software specialists GB Group. GBG announced the acquisition of US based identity Verification business, Acuant, for £547 million. The business has raised £305 million at £7.25 as part of the transaction, a 17% discount to the closing share price on the day prior to the announcement. The combined business will be a global leader in Identity Verification, and increases the company's reach into the lucrative US market. Other detractors over the period included Learning Technologies Group plc, Ergomed plc, and Trackwise Designs plc, whose share prices retreated from recent highs as a result of market volatility on no news.

The emergence of the Omicron COVID-19 variant has joined supply chain constraints and inflation as a cause for investor concern over the month, leading to substantial short-term market volatility. However, we remain confident in the balance sheet strength of our investee companies, whose management teams have already proven themselves capable of trading through the pandemic. We are also very encouraged by the number and quality of potential new investments in the pipeline, giving us confidence heading into 2022.

Glossary

Index

A representative portfolio of securities created to represent a particular market or a portion of it.

Net Asset Value (NAV)

The price-per-share of a fund or other investment. The per-share amount of the fund is based on the total value of all the securities in its portfolio, any liabilities the fund has and the number of fund shares outstanding.

Total Return (TR)

The gain or loss derived from an investment over a specified period of time. This figure includes interest, capital gains, dividends, and income distributions realised over that time period.
